Before you drive into town, think about leaving your vehicle at the Park and Ride car parks. They are cheap and there is a regular shuttle service into the city centre. There are several ways to park your car (the centre of the old town of Aix-en-Provence is pedestrianised):

- your hotel car park. Many hotels have their own car park.
- The Krypton car park is located at the southern entrance to Aix-en-Provence, with direct access to the A8 motorway, exit 30 (Aix-Pont de l'Arc). From 01 / 09 to 31 / 08, it is open from 6.30am to 9pm. You can leave the car park at any time, even at night (with your car park ticket). Beyond that time, a charge of 15 euros per day will apply. To go to the Faculty or to the City Centre, take the bus A Saint-Mitre<> P+ R Krypton, Bus stops: Jas de Bouffan, C. Cial Bouffan, Encagnane, Aix Centre (city centre), Rotonde, Gare routière (bus station), Facultés (faculty), Fenouillères, Krypton.
- Finally, in one of the car parks (Rotonde, Rambot, Bellegarde, Carnot, Méjanès, Mignet, Pasteur, Signoret) on the ring road. It is closer to the city centre (on foot), but it would be more expensive.

Moving around in Aix-en-Provence

The best way to get around the centre of the old town of Aix-en-Provence is on foot. However, there is also an extensive bus network to take you to more distant districts and destinations.

How to get to the Schuman campus site

If you are staying in a hotel in the city center, you can easily get to the congress venue on foot. The congress will be held entirely on Campus Schuman at the Faculty of Arts, Humanities, Languages and Social Sciences, 29 avenue Schuman, where the Egger (Amphi Guyon, Wing A, Hall, Wing E, rooms 01 to 10) and Cube building (lunch rooms, Théâtre Antoine Vitez) are located, with the exception of the welcome reception, which will be held in the Pavillon Vendôme, 13 rue de la Molle – 32, rue Célony. However, if you are coming on foot from the city center, it will be more pleasant to enter the campus via the entrance at 3 avenue Schuman, as you can cross the entire campus on foot.

For people with reduced mobility, it would be possible use the university's 'Silo' car park. If you would like to use this car park, please contact us at: ianls-2025@sciencesconf.org

Considering the fact that the participants come from a variety of countries, the papers must be read slowly and articulately.

3. The rules of the IANLS stipulate that for papers to be considered for inclusion in the Acta, they must be read by their authors, and not by someone else.

4. If for whatever reason you have to withdraw from the congress, please inform the Organizing Committee as soon as possible, to avoid last-minute disruptions.

The Jozef IJsewijn Prize

Prof. Dr. Jozef IJsewijn (1932-1998) was the inspiration behind the International Association for Neo-Latin Studies. The Association is offering an award for the best book published in the interval between congresses as a way to honour the late Professor IJsewijn and as a stimulus for young scholars to engage in Neo-Latin research. Scholars who have published their first book in the field are invited to submit this work to the Chair of the Advisory Board of the IANLS. The book must be written in one of the official languages of the IANLS. The winner's name will be announced at the opening of the 2025 congress, and he/she will be granted life-long membership of the Association. The editor and winner should produce a poster about the book, which should be exposed during the entire congress. Please note that the winner must attend the opening ceremony of the IANLS congress, when the prize will be presented. Applicants for the IJsewijn Prize are strongly encouraged to attend the congress even if they have not submitted a paper proposal.

The prize is being offered for a book published during the triennium January 2022 – December 2024.
